

Sneak Peek Inside Elder Oaks's Office: World Map of Missionary Service

September 17, 2014
source: LDS Living

What a great way to honor all those in Elder Oaks's family who have served the Lord all over the world! What does your family do to honor its missionaries' service?

Recently on Facebook, Elder Dallin H. Oaks gave members a glimpse inside his office and showed off a very unique piece of art: a world map with tiny names and tags pinned all over it. Here's what he had to say about it:

"This map that hangs in my office is one of my most prized possessions. It details all of the missions that my wife, Kristen, my children, spouses of my children, and my grandchildren have served. It even lists the time Sister Oaks and I spent in the Philippines when I was the area president there from 2002 to 2004."

"For me, this map represents faith in the Lord, love of fellowman, and a family which has answered the call to serve. How grateful I am for my family and for all families whose members have made decisions to put their personal lives on hold and testify to the world of Jesus Christ.”

